USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Meet Toby Neal

Social worker turned author Toby Neal grew up on the island of Kaua'i in Hawaii. Neal is the author of more than twenty-five novels in the mystery, romance, and young adult genres, including the twelve-book USA Today bestselling, award-winning Lei Crime Series. This police procedural mystery series centers on Leilani "Lei" Matsumoto Texeira, a multicultural detective with issues, her dog Keiki, and her love interest, Stevens, as they solve a range of complicated crimes in the Hawaiian Islands.

The Lei Crime Series has sold over a million books since its debut in December of 2011, and in 2015, Amazon launched the Lei Crime Kindle World, which allows authors to build licensed fan fiction upon Neal's characters. Currently, there are more than fifty fan fiction spinoff works in the World.

Neal is a 2016 Independent Publisher Book ("IPPY") winner for Best Mystery/Thriller for Rip Tides and in 2015 for Twisted Vine. She's a Notable Indie 2016 Winner, 2015 National Indie Excellence® awards winner, Best Multicultural Novel winner for Torch Ginger, and many more.

Outside of counseling work and writing, Toby volunteers in a nonprofit for children and enjoys life in Hawaii through beach walking, swimming, gardening, photography, and hiking.
